Hudson Valley Organizer Lisa Montanaro Named Inaugural Certified Professional Organizer[®] (CPO[®])

Warwick, NY — Lisa Montanaro has received the prestigious designation of Certified Professional Organizer[®] (CPO[®]) from the Board of Certification for Professional Organizers (BCPO). Montanaro is one of only approximately 200 CPOs in the world, having achieved this distinction by completing a rigorous course of study of organizing and related topics, and passing the inaugural CPO exam administered in April 2007.

CPO certification is a voluntary, industry-led effort that benefits the public and members of the organizing profession. CPO certification recognizes those professionals who have met specific minimum qualifications and proven through examination and client interaction to possess the body of knowledge and experience required for certification. The program recognizes and raises industry standards, practices, and ethics.

Montanaro states, “The CPO designation is a formal acknowledgment of my dedication to professional organizing and how I aim to exemplify the best the industry has to offer.” Montanaro will be honored in April 2008 at the annual conference for the professional organizing industry to be held in Reno, NV.
